

Let it go!

We sometimes hold onto things that make us feel worried, scared or upset. If these things are out of our control and there is nothing we can do to fix them, we must let them go to help us feel better.

Is there something you need to let go of today? Write or draw it in the balloon and then let it go...

